Dear Antitrust Bureaucrats: First I regard DOJ's intrusion into Microsoft's business to be an American Travesty. Now that DOJ has sucked millions of dollars out of the Microsoft pot who will be next? Can't you folks at DOJ understand that you have NOT done consumers a favor in that they [consumers] will ultimately pay for your meddling due to increased costs to produce the Microsoft products? Why can't you government (of by and for the people... yeah right) types understand that simple concept? Furthermore I DO like many products produced by Microsoft. However if I want a choice of operating systems there are others out there and I DO use them. There are other browser products out there such as Opera which I am using right now.... It is better than the Microsoft browser so I use it. You folks at DOJ DID NOT DO ME ANY FAVORS by getting into Microsoft's business and sucking out millions of dollars THE COST OF WHICH MUST ULTIMATELY BE BORNE BY ME THE CONSUMER. You see... not everyone in America is dumb to what is going on here.... Sincerely Jeff Bayer
